

CRISIS: Youth Violence is an American Pandemic

The Black Star Project has heard its cries echoed from across the country. Chicago is not alone in the struggle with youth violence. We understand that this is a national problem that requires a coordinated, national response. Help us create a comprehensive database to track this terrible issue. We will be announcing and tracking this issue city by city during a press conference on Tuesday, May 12, 2009 and afterward via our website.

Please fax this form to (773)285-9602 with youth violence data from your city and your availability to speak during the press conference. You can also email information to blackstar1000@ameritech.net.

Your Information

Name: _____

Phone: _____

Will you be available and are you interested in calling in to our press conference to discuss the youth violence situation in your city? Y / N

Email: _____

City: _____

State: _____

Youth Violence Data for your city

Number of children (18 and under) murdered since September 1, 2008: _____

Source: _____

Name, Age for each of the children killed: _____

Comments on your city's response or other relevant information: _____
